Another Burglary. On Thursday night last the burglars paid a visit to the residence of H. S. French, No. 57 North High street, and succeeded in carrying off a fine chronometer watch purchased in 1865 at a costof $210, together with a pocket book containing a small amount of change. They effected at entrance by cutting out a slat in the window shutter, which enabled them to raise the bolt, and hoist the window. They went into the room where Mr. French slept, made a raid upon the his pantaloons pockets, afterwards proceeded to a wardrobe, and then to the mantelpiece, where the watch was procured Mr. French was awakened, and started to
